

THE OREO LADY

THE GAME PLAN

From flyer to machine — your first 30 days

How to use the website while you're out serving.

What to do this week with what you already have.

Your first text campaign, word for word.

The simple tech build — and what waits for later.

Start on page 2. Do the checkboxes in order. Come hungry.

STEP 1 · THIS WEEK — NO NEW TOOLS, NO NEW COSTS

Start with what you already have

You don't need to wait on any tech to start. These five moves cost nothing and build the asset everything else runs on: a list of people who want to know where you are.

- Put the website link everywhere. TikTok bio, Facebook page, and one pinned post that says: "Menu + this week's schedule + book me — all right here."
- Start collecting numbers TODAY. A notes app or a paper sheet on the table is fine. The line is one sentence: "Want a text when I'm in your area?" Say it to every single customer.
- Pick ONE schedule day and never miss it. Every Sunday: post the week's spots on TikTok + Facebook. Same day, every week — people learn to look for it.
- Post a story the moment you set up. Every stop, every time: where you are, until when, what's fresh. 15 seconds.
- Ask for the follow at the table. Hand them the box, then: "Follow the TikTok — that's where I drop where I'll be."

MICHAEL HANDLES THIS PART

Put the website live on a real domain (Vercel). Print two things: a QR table-tent that opens the site, and small QR cards to drop in every box. File the A2P texting registration the day the GHSL account opens — it takes 1–2 weeks to approve, so it starts first.

STEP 2 · YOUR WEBSITE, WORKING WHILE YOU FRY

How to use the site in the field & online

The site has three jobs. Point people at the right one and it answers questions so you don't have to stop frying.

MENU	Answers “how much?” — 6 for $10 regular, 4 for $10 Dubai, 3+3 for $10 half/half. Point the QR at anyone in line deciding.
FIND ME	Where the schedule lives. Your Sunday post should say: “full week on the site.” One link instead of 30 DMs.
BOOK ME	Events, parties, business pop-ups. When someone says “come to my job!” — “Hit Book Me on my site, I'll get you scheduled.”

In person

- QR tent faces the line. Your line: “Scan that — menu, my schedule, and how to book me.”
- QR card in every box — the box travels to offices and parties; that's free advertising to people who already tasted it.

Online

- Sunday schedule post links the site. Share it into 2–3 local community Facebook groups (where allowed).
- Anyone who DMs “where are you?” gets the link — one tap, done, back to frying.
- Every viral-ish TikTok comment section: pin “schedule's on the site, link in bio.”

STEP 3 · THE SIMPLE TECH BUILD (PHASE 1)

Four pieces of GoHighLevel. Only four.

Michael sets all of this up — your job is just to use it. The rule for phase 1: if it isn't one of these four pieces, it waits.

- 1. The account + a real business phone number. One number for calls and texts that isn't your personal cell. A2P registration is filed on day one (1–2 week government-ish wait — this is why we start now).
- 2. One list + one join form. The QR cards and a keyword point here. Every number you collected on paper gets typed in too. This list is the business.
- 3. A booking calendar with a small deposit. “Book Me” on the site points here. A $25 deposit ends no-show parties forever.
- 4. Missed-call text-back. You're frying, a call comes in, you miss it — they instantly get: “Frying right now! Book me or find today's spot here.” A missed call stops being a lost customer.

DO NOT BUILD MORE YET

No funnels, no AI bots, no 12-step automations in month one. Every fancy thing added before the basics work is a thing that breaks while you're busy. The list, the calendar, and the text-back earn money first.

Cost reality: the software runs roughly $97/mo at the base plan plus pennies per text (a 200-person blast is a couple of dollars) — Michael will confirm current pricing. One extra $10 box per stop covers it.

STEP 4 • YOUR FIRST CAMPAIGN

“The Drop List” — 100 numbers in 30 days

One goal: 100 people on the text list in your first month. At your prices, a 100-person list that shows up even 10% of the time is an extra 10 boxes every single stop.

- The hook: joining gets a treat — e.g. a free extra Oreo with their next box, or first dibs when Dubai sells out. (Pick one, keep it cheap, honor it every time.)
- The ask, at every table: “Join my text list — I’ll ping you when I’m in your area, and you get [the perk].”
- The rhythm: exactly two texts a week. Sunday = the week’s schedule. Day-of = “I’m posted up.” Never more — the list stays golden because you don’t spam it.

Copy-paste texts (fill the [brackets], add your emojis when you send — cookie, sparkle, heart)

TEXT 1 — WHEN SOMEONE JOINS

It’s the Oreo Lady! You’re on the list — you’ll get a text when I’m setting up near you. Show this text next visit for [your perk]. Reply STOP anytime.

TEXT 2 — SUNDAY SCHEDULE

This week’s fry-up: [Day] — [spot], [Day] — [spot], [Day] — [spot]. Full schedule + menu: [site link]. Come hungry!

TEXT 3 — DAY-OF DROP

Fresh batch! I’m at [location] until [time] — regular, Dubai chocolate pistachio, and half/half boxes ready. First come, first served!

Track three numbers weekly

List size • perk redemptions • sell-out time. If sell-out time keeps shrinking, the list is working — raise the batch size, not the prices.

STEP 5 • LATER — ONLY AFTER THE LIST WORKS

Phase 2: what the AI builder adds

Once the list is past ~100 and the weekly rhythm is habit, GHL's AI tools start earning their keep. Each one is a single afternoon for Michael to switch on:

- AI booking funnel — a one-page event-booking funnel (built with the AI page builder) that upsells party platters when someone books a date.
- Conversation AI — answers the same five DM questions (where are you / how much / do you deliver / can you do my event / what's Dubai chocolate) instantly, 24/7, in your voice.
- Auto review requests — the day after every event: “Leave a review + tag a photo” text while the sugar's still on their fingers.
- 30-day win-back — anyone who hasn't opened/visited in 30 days gets one “we miss you — I'm near you Thursday” text.
- Card-on-file payments — invoices and tap-to-pay for event bookings so deposits and balances collect themselves.

THE ORDER MATTERS

List → rhythm → bookings → automation. Skipping ahead builds robots with nobody to talk to. The paper sheet of phone numbers in week one is worth more than any AI feature in month one.

THE BACK PAGE — TEAR-OFF

First steps, in order

If this is the only page you keep, keep this one.

- 1. Site link in TikTok + Facebook bios, one pinned post. (today)
- 2. Numbers sheet on the table — ask every customer. (today)
- 3. Pick your schedule day (Sunday) — post this week's spots. (this week)
- 4. Story at every setup: where + until when. (every stop)
- 5. Michael: site on the real domain + QR tent & box cards printed. (this week)
- 6. Michael: GHL account + number + A2P filed. (day one — it has a wait)
- 7. Type the paper numbers into the list the day texting is approved. (week 2–3)
- 8. Send Text 1 to everyone + start the Sunday/day-of rhythm. (week 2–3)
- 9. Booking calendar with deposit live behind “Book Me.” (week 3)
- 10. Day 30: count the list, the redemptions, the sell-outs — then unlock Phase 2. (day 30)

REMEMBER

The product already sells itself — the whole plan is just making sure more people know where the fryer is. Two texts a week. One schedule day. Ask every customer. Come hungry.